

First Tie

If there is a tie in the first round for any of the top four (4) places and there are five (5) judges, the high and low scores will be added back in and the competitor with the highest score wins.

If there are only three (3) judges or if after adding back in the high and low scores a tie still remains, the tie shall then be broken by having all tying competitors compete again with the same form.